TEXTS & TRANSLATIONS

Selections from Zigeunermelodien (Gypsy Songs), Op. 55

Mein Lied ertönt

Antonín Dvořák 1841–1904

My song resounds

Mein Lied ertönt, ein Liebespsalm, beginnt der Tag zu sinken, und wenn das Moos, der welke Halm Tauperlen heimlich trinken. My song resounds, a psalm of love,
When day begins to fade,
And when the moss and withered grass
Secretly drink in pearls of dew.

Mein Lied ertönt voll Wanderlust, in grünen Waldes hallen, und auf der Pussta weitem Plan lass' frohen Sang' ich Schallen. My song resounds full of wanderlust, As we journey through the world, Only on my wide native plains Can my song ring out happily.

Mein Lied ertönt voll Liebe auch, wenn Haidestürme toben; wenn sich zum letzten Le bens Hauch des Bruders Brust gehoben! My song is also full of love, As storms rage across the heath, And my friend breathes his last And frees himself from pain!

Ei! Ei, wie mein Triangel wunderherrlich läutet!

Hey! How my triangle rings out!

Leicht bei solchen klängen. in den Tod man schreitet! beim Triangel schallen! Lieder, Reigen, Liebe, Lebewohl dem allen! Hey! How my triangle rings out in splendour!

Like gypsy songs when we approach death!

When the triangle's song accompanies me to the grave,

There will be no more singing and dancing!

Rings ist der Wald so stumm und still All around the woods are so still and silent

Rings ist der Wald so stumm und still, All around the woods are so still and das Herz schlägt mir so bange; der schwarze Rauch sinkt tiefer stets. und trocknet meine Wange.

silent. My heart beats so fearfully; The black smoke sinks ever deeper Drying the tears on my cheek.

Ei meine Thränen trocknen nicht. musst andre wangen suchen! Wer nur den Schmerz besingen kann, wird nicht dem tode fluchen.

But do not dry my tears, You shall blow in other places! He who can sing while grieving, Still lives, and his song will not fade!

Als die alte Mutter

Als die alte Mutter mich noch lehrte singen,

Tränen in den Wimpen gar so oft ihr Tears would well strangely in her hingen.

Jetzt wo ich die kleinen selber üb'im Now my brown cheeks are wet with Sange, rieselt's in den Bart oft. rieselt's oft von der braunen Wange!

Songs My Mother Taught Me

When my old mother taught me songs to sing, tears.

When I teach the children how to sing and play!

Reingestimmt die Saiten!

Reingestimmt die Saiten! Bursche tanz' im Kreise! Heute froh, heute froh, und morgen? trüb', trüb', trüb' nach alter Weise!

Take your bow and strike up!

Take your bow and strike up! Come and join the round dance, my lad!

Be happy today, abundantly so, And sad tomorrow – it was ever thus!

Nächster Tag' am Nile, an der Väter Tische reingestimmt, reingestimmt die Saiten, in den Tanz, in den Tanz dich

Next day on the banks of the Nile. Sacred to our fathers. Take your bow and strike up. Hasten to the dance!

In dem weiten, breiten, luft'gen Leinenkleide

In dem weiten, breiten, luft'gen Leinenkleide freier der Zigeuner als in Gold und Seide!

Ja! der gold'ne Dolman schnürt die Brust zu enge, hemmt des freien Liedes wanderfrohe Klänge.

Und wer Freude findet an der Lieder Schallen.

lasst das Gold, das schnöde, in die Hölle fallen!

Darf des Falken Schwinge Tatrahöh'n umrauschen

Darf des Falken Schwinge Tatrahöh'n umrauschen, wird das Felsennest nicht er mit dem Käfig tauschen.

Kann das wilde Fohlen jagen durch die Haide, wird's am Zaum und Zügel finden seine Freude?

Hat Natur Zigeuner, etwas dir gegeben,

Jaj! zur Freiheit schuf sie mir das ganze Leben.

In his loose-fitting and airy linen clothes

In his loose-fitting and airy linen clothes

The gypsy feels freer than when dressed in silk and gold!

Yes! The golden dolman constricts his breast,

Smothers the happily wandering strains of his free song.

He who feels true joy when these songs resound,

Wishes that all gold should vanish from the face of the earth.

As long as the falcon can fly above the Tatra mountains

As long as the falcon can fly above the Tatra mountains,

He will never exchange his rocky nest for a cage.

If the wild foal can race across the heath,

He'll find no pleasure in bridle and reins.

If, O gypsy, nature has given you something,

She has given me freedom all my life.

Les berceaux

Le long du quai les grands vaisseaux,
Que la houle incline en silence,
Ne prennent pas garde aux
berceaux
Que la main des femmes balance.

Mais viendra le jour des adieux, Car il faut que les femmes pleurent,

Et que les hommes curieux Tentent les horizons qui leurrent.

Et ce jour-là les grands vaisseaux, Fuyant le port qui diminue, Sentent leur masse retenue Par l'âme des lointains berceaux.

Le secret

Je veux que le matin l'ignore Le nom que j'ai dit à la nuit, Et qu'au vent de l'aube, sans bruit, Comme une larme il s'évapore.

Je veux que le jour le proclame L'amour qu'au matin j'ai caché, Et, sur mon cœur ouvert penché, Comme un grain d'encens il l'enflamme.

Je veux que le couchant l'oublie Le secret que j'ai dit au jour Et l'emporte, avec mon amour, Aux plis de sa robe pâlie!

The cradles

Along the quay the great ships, Listing silently with the surge, Pay no heed to the cradles Rocked by women's hands.

But the day of parting will come, For it is decreed that women shall weep,

And that men with questing spirits Shall seek enticing horizons.

And on that day the great ships, Leaving the dwindling harbour behind,

Shall feel their hulls held back By the soul of the distant cradles.

The secret

Would that the morn were unaware
Of the name I told to the night,
And that in the dawn breeze,
silently,
It would vanish like a tear.

Would that the day might proclaim it, The love I hid from the morn, And poised above my open heart, Like a grain of incense kindle it.

Would that the sunset might forget,
The secret I told to the day,
And would carry it and my love away
In the folds of its faded robe!

Three Songs from the Yuan Dynasty

Poetry: Zaisi Xu, Yunshi Guan, Zhiyuan Ma

Lovesickness (Poetry by Zaisi Xu)

Weijie Gao

《折桂令·春情》徐再思 [元]

平生不会相思,才会相思,便害相

身似浮云,心如飞絮,气若游丝。

空一缕余香在此, 盼千金游子何之。

证候来时,正是何时?

灯半昏时,月半明时。

I never knew lovesickness in my entire life Only as I start to experience it I am already deeply tormented by it.

My body as floaty as the cloud My heart fluttering as the catkins My breath as thin as the thread

Only a trace of your scent remains here My precious one, where have you gone?

Lovesickness hits me. When does it feel the strongest?

When the lamp is half-dim. And the moon is half-covered.

《红绣鞋·欢情》贯石云 [元]

挨着靠着云窗同坐,看着笑着月枕双 Leaning on each other and sitting by 歌,

听着数着愁着怕着早四更过。

四更过,情未足:

情未足, 夜如梭。

天哪,更闰一更儿妨甚么!

Amour (Poetry by Yunshi Guan)

the cloud windows:

Looking at each other, laughing, and singing on the moon pillows;

Listening, counting, worrying, and fearing the night passing.

Night passing, love lingering,

Love lingering, time flying.

O Heaven, can't you spare us two more hours!

《落梅风·蔷薇露》马致远[元]

蔷薇露,荷叶雨,

菊花霜冷香庭户。

梅梢月斜人影孤,

恨薄情,四时辜负。

Dews on the roses (Poetry by Zhiyuan Ma)

Dews on the roses, raindrops on the lotus leaves.

Cold frost on the chrysanthemum flowers, whose fragrance permeates the courtyard and the household.

Above the plum tree slantly hangs the moon, Casting my lonely shadow.

I resent your fickle love, for which I have squandered all four seasons.

A Cycle of Life

Landon Ronald 1872–1938

Down in the Forest (SPRING)

Down in the forest something stirred, So faint that I scarcely heard: But the forest leapt at the sound, Like a good ship homeward bound.

Down in the forest something stirred: It was only the note of a bird.

Now in the morning of life I stand, And I long for the touch of your hand: I am here, I am here at your door, Oh, love, we will wait no more!

Down in the forest something stirred, It was only the note of a bird.

Love I have Won You (SUMMER).

Love, I have won you and held you In a life-long quickening dream, When the meadows sprang fair with flowers, And the river was all a-gleam.

Warm shone the sunlight around us, And clear were the skies above; Till the stars peeped forth in the twilight, And the moon rose pale with love.

Love, I have won you and held you.

Life has no more to give:

Then come to me in the sunshine,
It is summer. Ah, let us live!

The Winds are Calling AUTUMN

The winds are caliing, calling,
And the friendly voices die;
The rain is falling, falling,
From out a frowning sky:
Then let us say it quickly, you and I:
Good-bye!

If aught that I have told you
Should bring a moment's pain,
Love, I will take and hold you
Within my arms again:
And press you closely to my heart
Before we part:
Then let us say it quickly, you and I:
Good-bye'

Drift Down, Drift Down (WINTER)

Drift down, drift down from the skies, Little white snowflakes, falling fast: Like sleep that falls on tired eyes To bring us peace at last. Drift down, drift down from the skies, Little white snowflakes, falling fast. Fall soft, fall soft on my love, Little white snowflakes, drifting down: Messengers from the skies above On the winds of passion blown: Fall soft, fall soft on my love, Little white snowflakes, drifting down. Drift down, drift down from the skies, Little white snowflakes falling fast: Like sleep that falls on tired eyes To bring us peace at last. Drift down, drift down from the skies, Little white snowflakes, falling fast.

Hermit Songs, Op. 29

Samuel Barber 1910–1981

The Crucifixion

At the cry of the first bird
They began to crucify Thee, O Swan!
Never shall lament cease because of that.
It was like the parting of day from night.
Ah, sore was the suffering borne
By the body of Mary's Son,
But sorer still to Him was the grief
Which for His sake
Came upon His Mother.

The monk and his cat

Pangur, white Pangur, How happy we are Alone together, Scholar and cat. Each has his own work to do daily: For you it is hunting, for me study. Your shining eye watches the wall; my feeble eye is fixed on a book. You rejoice when your claws entrap a mouse; I rejoice when my mind fathoms a problem. Pleased with his own art Neither hinders the other: Thus we live ever without tedium and envy. Pangur, white Pangur, How happy we are Alone together, Scholar and cat.

Sure on this Shining Night

Samuel Barber 1910–1981

Sure on this shining night Of starmade shadows round, Kindness must watch for me This side the ground.

The late year lies down the north.
All is healed, all is health.
High summer holds the earth.
Hearts all whole.

Sure on this shining night I weep for wonder Wandering far alone Of shadows on the stars.
